

Oxendon House Newsletter January 2020

Happy New Year to all of our readers! It has been a fun packed 2019, and this months Newsletter will be looking back on some of our highlights, and giving all of our readers the chance to have input onto what we will be getting up to in 2020.

We hope to keep the fun times rolling in 2020, and already have several things lined up! We have been working with a local Alzheimer's group and we will be making our first visit on Sunday 26th January, please give me a shout via Facebook

Our Visitors!

2019 saw many different performers comes to see us at Oxendon House! We have made a conscious effort to diversify the performances, meaning we have had cellists to crooners and cabaret to birds of prey!! We look forward to return performances. In this part of the Newsletter we will be looking at a selection of some of these wonderful days!

In late December we were treated to a performance from Nice and Easy. They brought the festive vibes and good times, seeing the residents join each other for a singalong and a dance! Except to be seeing more of these guys in 2020

Another festive treat was a the performance of a our very own Julia Shailes! Julia performed a diverse and eclectic selection of songs, ensuring that there really was something for everyone. Julia will be performing a monthly slot at the house and we are already looking forward to the next, scheduled for 9th January!

October was a very exciting month, when the wonderful Wings Of Freedom came by to visit us! It was wonderful to see the residents able to get up close and personal with so many wonderful birds.

At Halloween, the very talented Ostara was on hand to help our residents get into the spooky spirits for Halloween, everyone shared plenty of laughs and good vibes!

Throughout the year we were visited by a selection of different animals! From staff's pets to some more exciting animals! We look forward to seeing many more in 2020!

Theme Days

Since I have been working in my current role of Activity Coordinator here at Oxendon House, it has been a pleasure to be involved in several of our "Themed Days", they have been a chance for the residents to immerse themselves in different cultures...and have a very fun time!

Day to Day

On a day to day basis we have offered a mix of different person centred activities for all of our residents!
